A unique environment

500 km West from Paris, on the North coast of Brittany, Setalg started back in 1985 as one of the French seaweed pioneers.

Located in the heart of Europe's largest algae beds, Setalg's unique natural environment is listed Natura 2000 site by the European authorities.

A sustainable activity

This direct access to resources originates in the combination of unique natural factors :

- A record tidal range : 13 meters high / 3 km long / twice a day.
- Two different water currents (Atlantic & Gulf Stream)

In order to preserve this biodiversity, Setalg maintains the Goémoniers' hand-harvesting seaweed collection. This regional family tradition is handed down from generation to generation.

A unique company

SETALG has developed a unique expertise in the sourcing and processing of natural ingredients for Feed, Food, Nutraceutical and Cosmetic applications.
